Auckland

Flanked by two dramatically different coastlines, in Auckland you are always just a stone's throw from beautiful beaches, bush walking trails and enchanting islands. Add a sunny climate, a lively fusion of international style, local creativity and Polynesian charm and you can see why Auckland is one of New Zealand's most popular destinations.

A young girl with long brown hair, wearing a traditional Māori hongi (headdress) with two feathers and a red and white patterned scarf, is shown in profile. She is facing an elderly man with grey hair, also in traditional Māori attire, including a white shirt with a red and black patterned collar and a black necklace with a large green pendant. They are both smiling and have their eyes closed, sharing a hongi (a traditional Māori greeting where two people press their foreheads and noses together). The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting an outdoor setting.
